

CAR JUMPS THE TRACK WITH FEARFUL RESULTS

One Killed, One Fatally Hurt and Many Others Are Injured.

SEATTLE, Sept. 24.—Five persons were injured, two fatally, in a street car accident near the world's fair grounds shortly before noon today. Frank Hull of Tacoma, aged 46, succumbed to his injuries soon afterward, and Edward Winslow of this city is dying.

A single-end Wallingford avenue car with eighty passengers, of whom fifty-five were seated and the others clinging to seats and straps, got beyond control of the motorman and attained a speed of thirty miles an hour. At the corner of Fourteenth avenue and East Fortieth street it careened, left the track and crashed into a one-story building, demolishing the flimsy structure, splitting and wrecking the car and hurling the passengers forward with great force.

POLICE COURT CASES

The feature of the work in Judge Bowman's court Friday afternoon was the rapidity with which the judge disposed of all of the cases on the calendar. Five in number were charged with being drunk, and all of them pleaded guilty. Gladys Doe, who said that her true name was Julia Ehlert, pleaded guilty to having been drunk, and was sentenced to thirty days in the city jail. The rest of the culprits escaped with a lecture. Three men charged with vagrancy came before the court with the excuse that they wanted to get out of the city, and were given the opportunity.

J. Smith, who was charged with entering the room of Mrs. J. Riley at the Elk hotel and stealing a gold case marked "Violet," told the court that he thought a jail sentence would do him good, as it would break him of the drink habit. His only excuse for his action was that he was in a crazed state from drinking. Judge Bowman sentenced him to sixty days in the city jail.

At the conclusion of the cases in the court, Judge Bowman asked Jailer Wilkinson whether there were any men or women in the jail whose trials were pending, and upon receiving a negative answer, adjourned the court until Monday at 10 o'clock.

ORPHEUM THEATRE—Advance vaudeville. Matinee 2:15. Evening 8:15.

BUNGALOW THEATRE—"Hello Bill" by Alfred R. Swenson and company. Matinee, 2:15. Evening, 8:15.

"Love Watches," with Billie Burke and company, filled the Salt Lake theatre to overflowing again on Friday night, and the big audience was as delighted and charmed as was the one which greeted her on the opening night. "Love Watches" will be presented at the matinee today and again this evening, when the engagement closes.

This afternoon and evening the Orpheum theatre will give the kindest of kin a special play, entitled "President Taft at Fort Meyers." This special bill will be shown at every performance up to and including Sunday night, and should prove of special interest. The current week's bill has gained in popularity, and the audiences are anxious to the utmost enthusiasm by the excellent dancing of the "Six American Dancers," and the patriotic music to which they step. There will be but two more opportunities to see the bill, today's matinee and the night performance.

Walker Arlington announces a spectacular production of the great drama "Quo Vadis" for the Bungalow during the next week, opening Sunday evening. The company has been drawing large crowds to "The College Widow" at the Colonial all week, but will close there with the performance this evening. There will be a matinee today.

A solid evening of laughter is offered in "Hello Bill," which Mrs. Carter and company are giving at the Bungalow. This farce has tickled the risibilities of large audiences during the week. There will be a matinee this afternoon.

A special to The Tribune from Milwaukee says Mrs. Leslie Carter, a play by Edward Feltz, "Vasta Herne," had its first performance at the Davidson theatre in that city Friday night, before a capacity audience. "It was a veritable triumph," the special says, "for Mrs. Carter, who has never had a more striking dramatic role. In the first modern play in which Mrs. Carter has appeared, she demonstrated wonderfully the possession of those talents which have won her the position of America's leading emotional actress. The play marked original in theme and treatment, dealing as it does with a woman whose genius is stimulated by the habitual use of drugs. In the vivid characterization of Vasta Herne, the genius of Mrs. Carter rose to heights that she has never reached. The new play literally swept the audience off its feet, and at the end of the strong third act, after a dozen curtain calls, both actress and author were called upon for speeches. The company supporting Mrs. Leslie Carter is the strongest she has ever had."

At the Grand theatre "The Girl of the Golden West" will be given two more performances, the matinee today and the performance tonight. Overflow houses have been the rule all the week.

A Narrow Escape.

Edgar N. Bayliss, a merchant of Robinsonville, Del., wrote: "About two years ago I was thin and sick, and coughed all the time, and if I did not have consumption, it was near to it. I commenced using Foley's Honey and Tar, and it stopped my cough, and I am now entirely well, and have gained twenty-eight pounds, all due to the good results from taking Foley's Honey and Tar." F. THREE hundred years ago, Hendrick Hudson, an adventurous Dutch sailor, in a little ship called the "Half Moon," sailed up what is now the harbor of New York, and up the great river which now bears his name.

Two hundred years later, a hundred years ago, Robert Fulton, amid the jeers and ridicule of his fellow townsmen, who said he was a crank, and couldn't possibly do it, made a voyage up the same historic river, from New York to Albany, in the "Clermont," the first vessel ever propelled by steam.

And now the country is celebrating these two historic events in a great pageant; the two clumsy little vessels, reproduced in exact size and appearance, are to be saluted by a great fleet of warships, assembled from all the big navies of the world; and civic and military parades and commemorative exercises are to be held in honor of these two historic events in the progress of civilization.

You'll read about it in all the newspapers. Meanwhile, we've discovered something, too. We've found that
